4:17:02 PM		Anyway speaking of movies, Our own Carver Terpstra has reviewed Christmas movies. Let see what he has to say. ( Carver Terpstra / MCU / Cam 2 ) Welcome to this special holiday movie review with me Carver Terpstra, UNI's very own self-proclaimed movie expert. My first piece of advice for movie viewing this holiday season is to avoid going to the movie theater, The odds are you spent enough money buying

too many presents that your loved ones didn't even like, judging by the disappointing looks on their faces, so there is no sense of spending the wads of old two dollar bills that your grandma left in your stocking on overpriced movie tickets, plus, if you think it loud as it is with your all relatives running around your house, just imagine being stuffed with them in a car trying to get to the movie theater.

So with that in mind here are some movies you can watch in the comfort of your home to help you forget about yet another disappointing Christmas.

THANKS AGAIN
FOR THE COOL
SANTA!!!!....first off a movie that you can enjoy regardless of age is...ELF,,,,,

(Director Note)
ready DDR (Elf, 20

this Will Ferrell
Comedy will brings the laughs and will have the whole family falling out of their chair from laughter as they follow the journey of
dimwitted man elf Buddy (played by Farell) on his journey to New York City. Be sure to follow this one
up with the timeless
classic A Christmas Story which paints a humorously sad
picture of the most wonderful time of the year... Like most college students,
young nieces
nephews and cousins
are probably driving
you up the wall long
after the presents
have been open as they fight over who gets to play with what toy..., here are two movies that will get them to act like the little angels their parents wish they were and guarantee some peace and quiet in the house.

First, start off with the classic Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer

4:18:38 PM

(Director Note)
Ready Rudolph (DDR 10 seconds) take

which has been holiday movie staple going on 50 years now, next off cue up one of the most popular movies in any child's mind, Disney's Frozen.... TO add to the excitement, having the kids sing along with the movie, and, by the movie you just might find yourself singing along also. Once the children have gone to bed, it's time to enjoy some more mature holiday comedies. My suggestion is a very Harold and Humor Christmas, in which the duo embark on an outrageous journey to find the perfect Christmas to impress

Harolds Father in law...AND there you have it just a few movies you can enjoy over Christmas and help you forget about how much holiday weight you've put on since

I'm really happy to introduce here Buddy the Elf, in his Cedar Falls reincarnation. In real life, he is Kevin King, but after he debuted on the stage during Main Street's Holiday Hoopla on Nov. 28, his stock has risen, his toes have curled and his hair has become orange, just like that of the Hollywood character played by Will Ferrell.

Hi, Buddy.

Buddy talks, laughs, jokes, talks aboutr being buddy. sings.

ANELIA: Buddy, now I want you to tell me what you think of this guy I met the other day. He is 100 years old and still plays the drums with the New Horizons band in the Cedar Valley. Just the other day, he played at the Christmas concert at the Gallagher-Bluedorn. He said he's stayed as
